The good parent's code

Parents are encouraged

- Be familiar with the coaching and training programme in order that you can ensure your child is fully involved and the coaches are aware of their abilities
- Be familiar with the teaching and coaching methods used by observing the sessions in which your child participates
- Be aware that the Club has a duty of care and therefore, where appropriate, assist coaches with the supervision of young players, particularly where numbers are large and there is a need to transport youngsters to away games.
- Be involved with Clubs activities and share your expertise
- Share concerns, if you have them, with the Club officials
- Be familiar with the Good coaches code in particular
- Coaches should recognise the importance of fun and enjoyment when coaching young players
- Coaches should keep winning and losing in perspective, encourage young players to behave with dignity in all circumstances
- It is important that all parents support coaches in instilling these virtues

Parents should

- Remember that young people play rugby for their own enjoyment and not for that of their parents
- Encourage young people to play, do not force them
- Focus on young players efforts, rather than winning or losing
- Be realistic about young players abilities, do not force them towards a level that they are not capable of achieving
- Provide positive verbal feedback both in training and during the game
- REMEMBER THAT PERSISTENT, NEGATIVE MESSAGES WILL ADVERSELY AFFECT THE PLAYERS AND THE REFEREES PERFORMANCE AND ATTITUDE
- Always support the club in their efforts to eradicate loud, coarse and abusive behaviour from the game
- Remember young people learn by example
- Always show the appreciation of good play by all young players both from your own Club and the opposition

The good player's code

- Recognise and appreciate the efforts made by coaches, parents, match officials and administrators in providing the opportunity for you to play the game and enjoy the rugby environment
- Understand the values of loyalty and commitment to adults and team mates
- Recognise that every young player has a right to expect their involvement in rugby to be safe and free from all types of abuse
- Understand that if an individual or group of young players feel they are not being treated in a manner that is acceptable, they have a right to tell an adult either at the Club or outside the game.

Player's should

- Play because you want to do so, not to please coaches or parents
- Remember that skill development, fun and enjoyment are the most important parts of the game
- Be attentive at all training and coaching sessions
- Work equally hard for yourself and your team - both will then benefit
- Recognise good play by all players on your team and your opponents
- Be a sportsman win or lose
- Play to the laws of the game and accept, without question, all referees' decisions. Control your emotions. Verbal or physical abuse of your team mates, opponents, or match officials is not acceptable.
- Treat all players, as you would like to be treated. Do not interfere with, bully or take advantage of any player

The good spectator's code

- Act as a positive role model to all young players
- Be familiar with, and abide by, the RFU child protection guidance in relation to verbal and emotional abuse
- Respect the club with regard to spectator behavior

Spectators should

- Remember children play sport for their enjoyment, not yours
- Acknowledge good individual and team performance from all players irrespective of the team for whom they play
- Respect match officials' decisions. Remember they are volunteers providing an opportunity for the youngsters to play
- Never verbally abuse young players, match officials, fellow spectators or coaches. Such behaviour can create a negative environment for young players and their behaviour will often reflect this
- Acknowledge effort and good performance rather than the 'win at all costs' ethic
- Verbally encourage all youngsters in a positive way. If you do shout make sure its 'for', not 'at' the players
- Encourage all players irrespective of their ability - never ridicule any individual player, regardless for whom they play
